Compassion: The superpower

"Putting your company's purpose at the foundation of your relationships with your stakeholders is critical to long-term success."

-Larry Fink / Head of BlackRock

"People tend to forget what you said and what you did, but they will never forget how you made them feel."

-Maya Angelou / Poet, writer, civil rights activist

In this world we humans all depend on each other. In business too. All business is built on relationships and they in turn are built on people. We need to create new, stronger and better relationships to become sustainable and viable long-term. Compassion is the way to do that. It is the overall framework for creating and navigating healthy purposeful relationships on all levels. Also between the company and its competition and in society as a whole. It becomes how people feel about the company and therefore the brand. It becomes the purpose of the whole enterprise. This is why compassion a superpower.

About Warriors of Love International

We teach, mentor and educate compassion.
In all relationships - personal, work, business and life.

Project Compassion

Leadership

We educate your leaders and teams to have a deep understanding of compassion, how it works and how to direct it into all the relationships the company creates. Compassion is the way to lead in a sustainable way, with purpose and loving kindness. A true and healthy leadership - taking the longterm view.

Employees

When employees learn the skills of compassion their connections are improved greatly. Their business relationships become stronger and more loyal. They represent a company whose core values are the same as their own. Making the world better - one small step at a time. They feel that they want to be employed in such a company, and they stay. It improves all relations in the workplace, with their customers and also empowers them and their own self-worth. It literally changes everything.

Brand

When a company navigates and operates with compassion the change happens very quickly. Compassion resonates with all humans instantaneously and makes them feel accepted and included. It resonates with all people on a subconscious level. The brand has now become something people wants to be connected to. Everybody can feel it.

"We are at the beginning of the age of compassion."
-Dr James R. Doty
Neuroscientist and former chairman of the Dalai Lama foundation

The world needs more Warriors of Love

Global compassion

WOLI educates and mentors people and businesses to implement compassion. We offer this service also for companies that operate globally. We believe that the age of compassion is here and that companies on a global level should work for a future that is sustainable in the true sense of the word.

We tailor-make it for you

Every enterprise has its own challenges and circumstances. WOLI takes that on by using - yes you guessed it - compassion. We listen to you, your needs and goals. When we feel we understand your business and the landscape, we suggest an effective strategy to start the work moving towards compassion. Because we need more Warriors of Love in the world.

Nicolas Notini Wallin

Nicolas had his first Energyflow awakening at the age of three playing drums. It was life-changing, the greatest magic. Inspired by close family friend and music legend Quincy Jones he decided early on to devote his life to exploring this Energy in music, improvisation, compassion and leadership. It remains his biggest passion in life.

He is a recording studio musician and a serial entrepreneur and founder in digital entertainment
